Friday 1st July 2022

This week we have ...

- Worked hard at completing three different maths assessments to see where we are working at.
- Investigated the life and work of Rembrandt then practised creating a portrait in his style using pencil and charcoal.
- Worked on Scratch junior during computing to recognise patterns and abstract the important information.
- Looked at different vertebrate groups of animals in science.
- Analysed and wrote our own cinquain poems.
- Begun a mini maths mission all about calculating the mass and volume of space vehicles.
- Continued to develop our French by having conversations based around Eurovision.
- Continued to develop our reading skills using our Reading Plus accounts.

Activity Menu

1. Get... mathing!	2. Get... Zoology...ing...
For maths this week, calculate the multiplication problems and colour in the Diwali patterns! https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1-9iQNSr4kEtl-zNCOXTVzFuyjZi6VOA9m?usp=sharing	In science, we have looked at vertebrate animal groups. What is your favourite animal group? Do some research about them and create a poster or mini book. The template for this is included below. https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1-9iQNSr4kEtl-zNCOXTVzFuyjZi6VOA9m?usp=sharing
3. Get... Reading!	4. Get... Arty!
This week is the first week of the Wimbledon Tennis Tournament, and one of your choices for reading this week is all about this famous event. The other two that you can choose to answer include a text about a female firefighter, and Cleopatra, a queen of Ancient Egypt. The choice is yours! https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1-9iQNSr4kEtl-zNCOXTVzFuyjZi6VOA9m?usp=sharing	This week we have drawn portraits inspired by Rembrandt. Use the resources below. You can either cut them out to make a face then colour it in with pencil crayon, or use the pictures as a WAGOLL and draw your own face! https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1-9iQNSr4kEtl-zNCOXTVzFuyjZi6VOA9m?usp=sharing

We will celebrate everything that is uploaded or brought in during our Tuesday Morning Meeting

Don't Forget . . .

- A number of pupils are bringing in mobile phones. They should only bring them in as a last resort, and if there is no alternative. In which case, they must be handed in to the office for safe keeping.
- Remember that the reading target each week is to read at least 3 times a week at home, including once to an adult. This can be using books or readingplus.com account online.
- Reading records should be brought into school each day. They are checked each week for those handed in on a Friday.
- Pupils in both classes have their own readingplus.com account to use at home as well as at school.
- Also practise times tables each week- pupils should be confident with these by the end of Year 4. Use TT Rockstars accounts as well as Hit the Button and other games.
